

Project description

Four woven steel mesh panels transform the station entrance into a distinctive landmark. Created as part of Purple Path, the art and sculpture trail in the Chemnitz 2025 European Capital of Culture region, the installation connects public art with local identity. Inspired by the textile heritage of Annaberg-Buchholz, the design reinterprets traditional weaving techniques in a contemporary architectural form.

Commissioned by the City of Annaberg-Buchholz.

Artist: Joep Verhoeven

Photography: Johannes Richter

Product information

Product: Lalace

Application: Ceiling

Type: Bended

Material / coating: 3 mm SS316 PVC-coated wire

Pattern: Custom floral braid pattern

Colour: White

Mounting: Winding wire

Project size: 60 m2